slightly higher than last week.

The prices in the coming week depend on the supply, and as this is uncertain the dealers are unwilling to hazard a guess as to what they will sell at next week. Butter, which has been at one figure for the past three months, has advanced, and this morning 45 cents a pound was being asked for the choice grades, while the medium grades had advanced from 3 to 5 cents a pound. In the meat market roasting pork, fresh hams and bacon are somewhat lower in price than a week ago. French endive and mushrooms are cheaper on the vegetable benches, and cauliflower is higher.

Keeps Up the Prices. Receipts of fresh fish from all sources are very light at the wharf market, while the demand is good and prices continue high. Fresh gray trout, butters and croakers have disappeared from the market, and their place has been taken by frozen stock, the first to appear this season. Winter shad from off the Potomac have also made their appearance and are alling at 5 cents a pound. From now on, the dealers state, frozen stock will in a measure take the place of fresh fish. Perch, cats, bass and rock will continue to come from the Potomac nets, but the supply will not be large.

This morning the market was well attended, and prices ranged about as follows:

Tilefish, 10 cents a pound; Spanish mackerel, halibut and salmon, each 12½ cents a pound; bluefish, 22 cents a pound; haddock, 8 cents a pound; pollock, 5 cents a pound; Potomac and North Carolina bass, 14 to 16 cents a pound; carp, 8 to 9 cents a pound; flounders, 8 to 9 cents a pound; large white perch, 12½ cents a pound; large white perch, 12½ cents a pound; small white perch, Receipts of fresh fish from all sources

This morning the market was well attended, and prices ranged about as follows:

Tilefish, 10 cents a pound; Spanish mackerel, hallbut and salmon, each 12 % cents a pound; bluefish, 22 cents a pound; rock, 15 to 20 cents a pound; haddock, 8 cents a pound; pollock, 5 cents a pound; Potomac and North Carolina bass, 14 to 16 cents a pound; carp, 8 to 9 cents a pound; flounders, 8 to 9 cents a pound; flounders, 8 to 9 cents a pound; small white perch, 12 ½ cents a pound; small white perch, 25 to 30 cents a bunch; yellow perch, 25 to 40 cents a bunch; ling, $6.50 a barrel: catfish, 15 to 60 cents a bunch; gray trout, frozen, 6 to 8 cents a pound; croakers, frozen, 8 cents a pound, and butters, frozen, 6 cents a pound. Oysters are very scarce at the wharf market, the arrivals having been light in the past week and the demand fair. There are down the river a dozen or more vessels with oysters for this market. Should they all arrive in a bunch prices will be low in the coming week, otherwise high prices can be looked for. Conditions at the wharf this morning were such that dealers would not quote prices.
